

World environment day observed by NSS Unit Salesian College Siliguri:

5th June 2014, Salesian College, Siliguri Campus: The day was started with the instruction by the Principal Fr.(Dr.) George Thadathil regarding the place to plant the saplings. Around 45 saplings of different varieties which were brought the previous day by Fr. James Chacko and were taken out by the students with the help of the gardener Mr. Bijay. Cow dung and mud for the manure from the noviciate. There were 20 Asoka saplings which were beautifully planted from the main gate up to the college gate. Some of the trees were planted along the walls of the campus; some were planted near the stadium and at the boundary of the play ground. The seedlings were planted by the students, NSS Co-ordinator, Mr. Sandeep Sundas and Hod of Science Dept. Mr. Amit Ghosh. Father James visited the spot and encouraged the team for the work. The programme ended up around at 12 noon but unfortunately the group were not able to plant the entire seedling as the day was very hot and most of the students did not turn up but the students who came worked very hard to make it successful.

“Though it was small effort made by the NSS team of the Salesian College but it made many to realize the responsibilities and encourages to care for the Earth and to become agents for the change.”
